

Dear FCC, (I am commenting on proceeding 02-278)

I am on the Attorney Generals Telephone Privacy list. It has been a God-send. I am disabled and a possible heart transplant patient. I have been harassed by telemarketers in the past and it increased my stress level a great deal. Please don't implement any law that would lessen the impact of the Telephone privacy Law protections. I feel like someone is looking out for me and that is a good feeling. I now get NO annoying telemarketing phone calls at all. I did get a couple of calls early on. I told them I was on the Telephone Privacy list and they quickly back peddled and apologized and said it would never happen again. I used to get as many as 6 to 8 calls a day. They came at all times, at mealtime, at night and on Saturday and Sunday.

Please, please don't change our protection or water down the law in any way. It really has been a God-send.

Thank you for considering my viewpoint. Martha Ann Marion, 9033 W. Pvt Rd. 225 N., Royal Center, In. 46978
